

Bill No.: HB0139

Effective: 7/1/2015

LSO No.: 15LSO-0371

Enrolled Act No.: HEA 58

Chapter No.: 87

Prime Sponsor: Petroff

Catch Title: Unemployment compensation protests-time limit.

Subject: Increasing time limits for review and redeterminations of unemployment compensation protests.

Summary/Major Elements:

- Under current law, a determination of a benefit claim for purposes of unemployment compensation is final unless a party applies for redetermination or appeals the determination within 15 days.
- This bill increases the time in which a party may apply for redetermination or appeal the determination to 28 days.
- Under current law, the Unemployment Insurance Commission may review the decision of an appeal tribunal, review a determination of a special examiner or grant an appeal in regards to a benefit claim within 15 days.
- This bill increases the time in which the Commission may review the decision of the appeal tribunal, review a determination of a special examiner or grant an appeal to 28 days.
- In addition, this bill specifies the increase in time limits for redetermination or appeal of a benefit claim does not apply, to the extent inconsistent, with the time limits for review or redetermination of employer contribution liability, contribution rates or the charging of benefit payments.

The above summary is not an official publication of the Wyoming Legislature and is not an official statement of legislative intent. While the Legislative Service Office endeavored to provide accurate information in this summary, it should not be relied upon as a comprehensive abstract of the bill.