

UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING - Law, College of: Chair (1), Professorship (7)
	Title	History	Qualifications/Purpose	Detail	Type	Current/Past Recipients	Original Gift Value	Market Value (6/30/2019)	FY20 Estimated Income
1	Jerry W. Housel/Carl F. Arnold Distinguished Professorship	Established in 1995 to honor Carl Arnold by Jerry Housel.	Selection process is national and is conducted by the College of Law. The appointed professor shall be a distinguished teacher and scholar in any area of law.	To expand the curriculum of the law school. The professor shall participate in a national dialogue and be a contributor to development of the law on a national or international basis.	Professorship	Current Recipient: Stephen Feldman	$ 754,302	$ 825,045	$ 32,699
2	Winston Howard Distinguished Professor	Established in 1987 by Winston Howard.	Selection process is conducted by the College of Law. The recipient must have outstanding abilities as both scholar and teacher.	Support for the Distinguished Professorship.	Professorship	Current Recipient: Jim Delaney Past Recipients: Diane Courselle, Michael R. Smith, Reed Benson, Debra L. Donahue, Elaine Welle, Harvey Gelb, Mark Squillace, Robert B. Keiter, Sam Kalen	$ 144,144	$ 242,726	$ 9,620
3	Kepler Distinguished Professorship of Law	Established in 2001 by the Paul Stock Foundation, Charles and Ursula Kepler and an anonymous donor with contributions totaling $759,000. This chair was established to honor Charles, Courtney and Loretta Kepler for their many contributions to the College of Law and the practice of law. The purpose is to enhance education and learning opportunities at the College of Law.	The holder of this position is selected through a national search, and named by the College of Law Dean. The professor appointed to the professorship shall be a contributor and leader in development of the law on a national or international basis. The professor shall be a distinguished teacher and scholar in any area of law.	The professorship is to be used to enhance the curriculum at the College of Law.	Professorship	Current Recipient: Jacquelyn Bridgeman Past Recipients: Harvey Gelb	$ 500,000	$ 590,930	$ 23,486
4	E. George Rudolph Distinguished Visiting Chair	Established by a $500,000 gift from the Paul Stock Foundation and eventually matched with other gifts to the present amount. The program is named in honor of Dean Rudolph who was instrumental in the construction of the present College of Law Building.	Distinguished visiting lecturer and a distinguished visiting chair.	To allow enhancement of the basic law curriculum by funding visiting lecturers and visiting professors of national stature in selected legal disciplines.	Chair	Current Recipients: Vacant Past Recipients: Allen Madison, Owen Anderson, Arthur B. LaFrance, Joseph Perkins, Anthony Arnold, Helen L. Norton, Robert Kamenshine	$ 582,707	$ 1,015,733	$ 40,076
5	William T. Schwartz Professor of Law	Established in 2009 by the Schwartz Family.	Recipient should be a distinguished member of the law faculty who has demonstrated a high degree of integrity, professionalism, and scholarship. The appointment will be for up to a five-year term, renewable upon evidence of high standards of teaching, scholarship, and integrity. Preference will be given to a professor whose work involves the study of energy or natural resources law, but the Dean shall retain discretion to award the professorship to the most deserving candidate regardless of disciplinary focus.	To enhance salary support for the recipient of the professorship (above the recipient's base, state-supported salary and benefits) and support for the recipients' teaching and scholarship activities. Both parties understand that the amount of income generated may fluctuate according to market conditions and investment returns.	Professorship	Current Recipient: Steve Easton Past Recipients: Jerry Parkinson	$ 500,000	$ 782,931	$ 30,829
6	Carl M. Williams Centennial Distinguished Professor	Established in 1986 by Carl Williams in memory of George Hopper, former UW Law School professor.	A faculty member who specializes in or shows particular interest in the field of communications or the First Amendment as it relates to communications be strongly considered.	Selection process is conducted by the College of Law. Focus is on Securities Law.	Professorship	Current Recipient: Sam Kalen Past Recipients: Michael Duff, Elaine Welle, James Delaney, Timothy Kearley, Ted Lauer, John Burman, Dee Pridgen, Joel Selig	$ 115,418	$ 232,446	$ 9,213
7	Carl M. Williams Professor of Law & Ethics	Established in 2004 by Carl Williams.	To be awarded to a distinguished member of the law faculty whose work is recognized nationally with preference to the study of ethics and professional responsibility. The appointment will be made by the Dean of the College of Law, in consultation with the law faculty, for a five-year term, renewable upon evidence of high standards of teaching, scholarship, and service.	There are four Carl Williams Endowments; Carl M. Williams Professor of Law & Ethics, Carl M. Williams Professor of Law & Social Responsibility, Carl M. Williams Faculty Research Fellowships, and Carl M. Williams Symposium & Speaker Series.	Professorship	Current Recipients: Noah Novogrodsky & Michael Smith (split) Past Recipients: John Burman, Elaine Welle	$ 501,165	$ 513,945	$ 20,328
10	Carl M. Williams Professor of Law & Social Responsibility	Established in 2004 by Carl Williams.	To be awarded to a distinguished member of the law faculty whose work is recognized nationally, with preference to work examining issues of social responsibility in any legal discipline. The appointment will be made by the Dean of the College of Law, in consultation with the law faculty, for a five-year term, renewable upon evidence of high standards of teaching, scholarship, and service.	There are four Carl Williams Endowments; Carl M. Williams Professor of Law & Ethics, Carl M. Williams Professor of Law & Social Responsibility, Carl M. Williams Faculty Research Fellowships, and Carl M. Williams Symposium & Speaker Series.	Professorship	Current Recipients: Alen Romero Past Recipients: Dee Pridgen	$ 499,468	$ 511,561	$ 20,233
							$ 3,597,204	$ 4,715,317	$ 186,485